

I travel extensively and XM satellite service, including weather and road conditions, is the source of information that I can receive in any area. Restraining quality competition is not in the best interests of this country's citizens. The NAB should compete with superior product, not protectionism.

Steve Schneider